

SUMMARY

In 2017, there were 28 conflicts in 25 countries. No conflict was removed from the Armed Conflicts Report this year. However, we are closely monitoring the developments of Colombia's peace process.

Syria remained the bloodiest conflict, although the death toll decreased from the previous year. In 2017, reports suggest that 39,000 people, including 10,507 civilians, were killed. There are also 6.1 million internally displaced persons in Syria and over 6.3 million refugees.

In Yemen, children are bearing the brunt of the conflict. Since March 2015, 5,000 children have died in the violence—which is an average of 5 children a day. In Afghanistan, child casualties accounted for 30 per cent of all civilian casualties.
