Teacher Key and Suggested Responses

Equivalent accurate answers should also receive credit.

Parts One to Three

Objective answer blanks have been filled directly in the booklet tables above.

Part Four: Suggested Responses

1. Muhammad is central because Muslims understand him as the Prophet through whom God revealed the Qur'an. His life also serves as an example of obedience, worship, and community leadership.
2. Muslims understand the Qur'an as the revealed word of God, received by Muhammad and preserved as sacred scripture. It is recited, memorized, studied, and treated as a primary source of guidance.
3. The word Islam suggests submission or surrender to God. A strong answer explains that believers are called to live in obedience, trust, and peace under God's will.
4. The shahadah means that there is no god but God and Muhammad is the messenger of God. It is both the declaration of faith and a concise summary of Muslim belief.
5. Salat gives structure to the day through regular prayer and remembrance of God. It trains humility, discipline, gratitude, and shared worship within the Muslim community.
6. Zakat connects faith and social responsibility by requiring believers to share wealth with those in need. It expresses justice, compassion, and the idea that possessions carry moral obligation.
7. Fasting in Ramadan is meant to deepen self-discipline, gratitude, empathy for the poor, repentance, and attention to God. It is more than going without food; it is spiritual training.
8. Hajj is pilgrimage to Mecca and expresses obedience, remembrance, unity, and equality before God. Mecca matters because it contains the Kaaba and is the holiest city in Islam.
9. The mosque is a place of prayer, learning, gathering, and community life. The imam commonly leads prayer and may teach or guide the community, though not in exactly the same way in every context.
10. A respectful answer notes that Sunni and Shia are the two major branches of Islam and that both are fully Muslim. One clear difference concerns historical leadership after Muhammad and some later religious authority structures and practices.
11. The ummah is the worldwide Muslim community. Community matters in Islam because faith is lived through shared prayer, charity, mutual responsibility, learning, and belonging.
12. Accept any accurate example, such as mosques, Muslim charities, schools, Eid celebrations, Ramadan observance, or public discussions about pluralism, religious freedom, and Islamophobia in Canada.

Part Five: Student-Choice Teacher Notes

Option A: Mosque, Holy Month, or Pilgrimage Study

Responses will vary. Award full marks when the student identifies one mosque, Ramadan practice, Eid celebration, or Hajj topic, describes it accurately, explains the beliefs or values expressed, suggests a respectful learning approach for non-Muslims, and cites at least two credible sources.

Option B: Islam in Canadian Society

Responses will vary. Full-credit work identifies one Muslim community, organization, school, charity, or historical example in Canada, describes it accurately, shows how Islamic values are visible, names both a challenge and a strength in public understanding, and includes at least two credible sources.
