

Date: _____

Name: _____

Topic: _____

Critical Response Rubric

Aboriginal Studies 10/20/30

	Excellent 4	Proficient 3	Acceptable 2	Limited 1
Comprehension x2	Understanding of the question is insightful. Deliberate elaboration of viewpoint. Demonstrated an in depth comprehension of the text and topic Perceptive and enlightening interpretations.	Understanding of the question is clear. Exploration of viewpoint. Demonstrated a thorough comprehension of the text and topic. Purposeful and logical interpretations.	Understanding of the question is evident. Identifies viewpoint. Demonstrated a comprehension of the text and topic. Predictable and logical interpretations.	Understanding of the question is not apparent. Vaguely identifies viewpoint. Incomplete comprehension of the text and topic. Uncertain interpretations.
Evidence	Thoughtful selection of evidence that is important to the issue. Evidence is precise and complete/free of factual errors. Uses evidence skillfully to strengthen arguments or ideas.	Selects evidence that is important to the issue. Evidence is complete/free of factual errors. Uses evidence to strengthen arguments or ideas.	Selects evidence that is largely important to the issue. Evidence is largely complete and contains minimal factual errors. Attempts to use evidence to strengthen arguments or ideas.	Selects evidence that is irrelevant to the issue. Evidence is largely incomplete and contains factual errors. Does not use evidence to strengthen arguments or ideas.
Communication Skills	Ideas and details are arranged in a highly effective way. Controls the discussion and concludes skillfully. The main idea is sustained and integrated. Organization "flows". Text is free from errors in word use and mechanics (spelling, punctuation, grammar, format).	Ideas and details are arranged in an effective way. Controls the discussion and concludes purposefully. The main idea is sustained. Organization "flows". Text is largely free from errors in word use and mechanics (spelling, punctuation, grammar, format).	Ideas and details are arranged in a logical way. Attempts to control the discussion and conclude purposefully. The main idea is evident. Organization lacks structure. Text has errors in word use and mechanics (spelling, punctuation, grammar, format) that do not impede meaning.	Ideas and details are arranged in haphazard way. Discussion is not controlled or concluded purposefully. The main idea is not evident. Organization is incoherent. Text has errors in word use and mechanics (spelling, punctuation, grammar, format) that impedes meaning.
Total				____/16

I would like to thank Mrs. Shepherd of Bev Facey Community High School for sharing her resources, knowledge and kindness with respect to this course. Many projects, documents and ideas you will be exploring in this course were originally from Mrs. Shepherd, that she has generously shared with me. I would also like to thank Mrs. Devin and Mr. Albert for their continued support and guidance.